*"There is no tool for development
More effective than the Empowerment of Women"*

- Kofi Annan

Former General Secretary, United Nations Organization

Women Empowerment is promoting women's sense of self worth, their ability to determine their own choices and their right to influence social change for themselves and others. By standing up for equality, women have helped other women to speak up and empower them. When women are living safe, fulfilled and productive lives, they can reach their full potential, contributing their skills to the work force and can raise happier and healthier children. Empowering women is key to economic growth, political stability and social transformation. Women are known for delivering multiple roles effortlessly thus, they are considered the backbone of every society.

The Constitution of India guarantees that there shall be no discrimination on the grounds of gender. There are various legal provisions for women safety and empowerment enshrined in the Constitution. It not only guarantees equality to women but also empowers the State to adopt measures in favour of women for neutralizing the cumulative socio, economic, education and political deprivation faced by them since ages.

Fundamental Rights among others ensures equality before the law and equal protection of law, prohibits discrimination against any citizen on grounds of religion, race, caste, sex or place of birth and guarantee equality of opportunity in matters relating to employment.

Indian Penal Code provides safety of women against rape (sec 376) kidnapping, abduction for different purposes (sec 363-373), Homicide for Dowry torture (sec 498-A) Molestation (sec 354) and Sexual Harassment (sec 509).

In the same way special laws are enacted to safeguard the interests of women, children and senior citizens viz, Immoral Traffic (suppression) Act 1956, The Dowry Prohibition Act 1961, The Equal Remuneration Act 1976, The Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act 2005, The Prohibition of Child Marriage Act 2006, The Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act 2007, The Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act 2012 and The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act 2013.

The Government whose foundations are based on social justice, social equity and inclusive society is made the focus of its governance, the women especially marginalized, exploited, suppressed and uneducated, Children who need care, protection and sustainability, Elders who requires care of health, nutrition, protection and rehabilitation and Transgenders who are in need of social inclusiveness and empathy. The Government is striving hard to ensure that no one left behind in the process of growth and development.

The Government to achieve its stated policy, implementing various schemes/ programmes to empower women, children, elders and transgender. Education is the only tool to empower the women to make choices that improve their children's health, their well being, marrying beyond childhood and having fewer children. Education can increase women's awareness of their right, boost their self esteem and provide them the opportunity to assert their rights.

Education will go an extended way in making women familiar with their legal and personal rights and make them battle for their privileges, which will direct to protecting their rights mentioned in the Constitution. Education is the initial line of defence for women who withstand life imperilling circumstances that traditional lifestyle perpetuates. In addition to this, it unlocks the door to preferences that are not combined by tradition. With a meaningful education, the women's status strides beyond the restrictions of motherliness.

Importance of Women's Higher Education was taken up as the need of the hour and efforts are put forth by the Government through the "Higher Education Assurance Scheme" effectively. The Ultimate aim of the Government is to provide higher education to women so as to bring the Social transformation. Hence, the existing scheme The Moovalur Ramamirtham Ammaiyar Ninaivu Marriage Assistance Scheme has been changed as "Moovalur Ramamirtham Ammaiyar Higher Education Assurance Scheme" by the department.

The girls who are studied in government schools from 6th standard to 12th standard are facilitated to choose higher education and get benefitted under monthly incentive scheme of Rs.1000/- from the Academic year 2022 - 2023. This path breaking and motivating scheme for girl children will result in higher enrolment in government schools by creating knowledgeable and skill society in the country.

The Biggest challenge in any progressive State is to ensure mobility of women for employment and pursuing higher studies and access of women to the public spaces. Tamil Nadu being the most literate State and having the highest enrolment ratio and having huge skilled men power, has introduced a path breaking revolutionary scheme of "Free travel concession in Government run white board buses" for working women and college going girl students and transgender, thereby increasing the greater participation of women in labour force. 91.85 Crore number of trips have been undertaken by the women, college going girl students and transgender.

The demographic trend in the State is fast changing as the State achieved excellent population control measure. As the birth rate has decreased and due to extended life span, the State is having the largest number of senior citizens. As per the Census, the State will have 18.20 percent of Senior Citizens by 2031 that is approximately 1.50 crore senior citizens in the State. It is posing the biggest challenge for providing the welfare measures to the senior citizens by the State Government. To address this challenges of issues of care, protection, health, nutrition, rehabilitation of the elderly people, the State Government has announced the new State Policy For Elders, which is in advance stage of preparation.

The Children Health and Nutrition deserves a priority in development policy. It is not merely a cliché to say that a nation's future lies in its children. It is a well documented fact that an individual's growth potential as an adult, both physical and intellectual is determined in early childhood, and that poor health and poor nutrition in infancy can have deleterious effects on his/her life. Most progressive and developed countries have developed because of the quality of human resource they possess, in which they have invested.

In India, more than 1 crore children are born every year in families which already have an inadequate per capita caloric availability. Further, a growing child cannot wait for the "trickle down effect" of overall economic development. The child's needs must be met today.

Article 47 of the Directive Principles of State Policy states that "the State shall regard the raising of the level of nutrition and the standard of living of its people and the improvement of public health as among its primary duties.....".

The problems of child health and malnutrition is a complex one - relating to a number of factors which operate at the level of the family, the community and the State as a whole. The most important of these include:

- Poverty and consequently, limited purchasing power,
- Lack of knowledge about nutrition and the requirements of a child including poor intra-family distribution and many traditional beliefs, practices and attitudes anti ethical to sound nutrition.
- Insanitary living conditions including the lack of adequate protected water supply and drainage, and the practice of open defecation leading to repeated infections which exacerbate malnutrition.

Tamil Nadu has a long tradition of protecting its people from hunger and starvation.

இரந்தும் உயிர்வாழ்தல் வேண்டின் பரந்து
கெடுக உலகியற்று யான். - குறள் 1062

“If a man is allowed to beg and beseech, let the Almighty, the Creator be vanished” - vehemently wrote by Ayyan Thiruvalluvar, He powerfully opposed starvation.

“தனியொரு மனிதனுக்கு உணவில்லை எனில்
இந்த ஜகத்தினை அழித்திடுவோம்.”

“Even if a single individual is allowed to starve, let us not hesitate to destroy the whole world” - expressed by the freedom fighter and the revolutionary poet Bharathiyar.

Emphasizing the above words, this Government always committed for the implementation of nutrition and health programmes to achieve “Malnutrition Free Tamil Nadu”.

The Covid-19 pandemic had devastated the life of people across the State /Country, especially a serious impact on families and many children became either orphans or left with single parents. The loss of protector and breadwinner in the family has completely impacted their livelihood and children become the worst affected and vulnerable. Considering the precarious conditions of the children who lost both or either parents, the Hon'ble Chief Minister announced immediate relief of cash assistance including, educational support, residential care facilities and special preference in Government implemented schemes by providing a deposit amount of Rs.5 lakh and Rs.3 lakh as immediate relief and maintenance grant of Rs.3000/- per month.

As a progressive State, the Government aims at empowering vulnerable families and keep children under their warmth, love and affection rather institutionalisation. The family environment plays a vital role in moulding a child and the same could not be compensated by any form of alternative service delivery. Placing children into institutions for the cause of poverty alone infringes the cardinal principles of Juvenile Justice

Act. The Children kept in the wait list for Sponsorship assistance and its cumulative increase in number from year to year has become a serious concern of the State Government. The Government determined to provide best possible opportunities for the development of children and the financial constraint in no way could affect the welfare of children. The Hon'ble Chief Minister announced fully State sponsored scheme of foster care and sponsorship covering all the children in the wait list in one go by sanctioning additional funds during the year 2021-22.

The State has been driving its programme to have a healthy and safe environment for children free from all forms of abuses. Sexual abuse of children cause serious damages on physical and emotional well being of victims. The Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act affirms victim compensation for children as an interim measure to swiftly respond to their immediate needs and at final stage for long term rehabilitation and also to compensate the loss. In the past years the compensation for the POCSO victims was awarded from out of a common Victim Compensation Scheme meant for all victims of different offences. As there was delay in disbursement of fund, the State Government has created an exclusive fund (Tamil Nadu Child Victim Compensation Fund) for providing compensation to victims under the POCSO Act, a first of its kind in India and successfully implementing this scheme, by providing compensation on priority basis.

The Government had established “Integrated Training Centre for Social Empowerment” in association with UNICEF, one of the first of its kind in the Country, to provide training to Stakeholders related to the Child protection services. The Government has also framed “Tamil Nadu State Child Protection Policy 2021” for the overall wellbeing of the children.

The State’s commitment to uplift the depressed, exploited, marginalised and voiceless especially women, children, elders and transgender continues with vigor and energy to ensure that a society based on social justice, social equity and social inclusiveness ensuring right based programmes and schemes in the State.

CHAPTER-2

SOCIAL WELFARE AND WOMEN EMPOWERMENT

The Department of Social Welfare and Women Empowerment implements welfare schemes and enforces Social legislations to protect and safeguards the rights of the Marginalized sections of the society, i.e., Women, Children, Transgenders and Senior Citizens.

2.1 Child Welfare

India has the highest population of children below the age of 18, that is 39% of the total population. The children constitute the most vulnerable section of society and are considered supremely important asset of our nation as the future of any nation depends on how its children mature and develop. Every child has the right to lead a life of dignity, safe from violence, exploitation, abuse, neglect, deprivation and discrimination. Safeguarding the rights of the children and protecting them from all kinds of exploitation and abuses is the primary responsibility of the State including each and every individual member of the society.

The Government is committed in its continuous support to enable every child to have the best start in life, to thrive and to develop their potential. The Tamil Nadu State Policy for Children 2021, has been framed in such a way to guarantee all fundamental rights to children as enshrined in the Constitution and to safeguard them from abuse and harm.

The Government is taking utmost care for protection of the children by enacting and implementing various child related legislations and schemes. The Government is also taking all measures to a maximum extent for providing a protective environment by establishing a strong child protection mechanism.

2.1.1 Cradle Baby Scheme

The practice of female infanticide in some areas of the State, reflected a sudden decrease of Child Sex Ratio, as per census 1991. It may be attributed to so many socio economic factors. Poverty, dowry harassment, birth of child to unmarried women, deformed infants, famine, pandemic etc are among the causes that have been contributed for this kind of social evil practices. The low value associated with the birth of female child and the preference for male child also lead to intentional killing of female infants.

To make sure that girl child receives proper care and support even if they are left abandoned by parents, Tamil Nadu has launched a novel scheme of Cradle Baby Scheme in the year 1992 in Salem District. By setting up cradles in the hospitals, the mothers are facilitated to leave their unwanted girl babies safely in the cradles. This is a specific measure to rescue these babies from the jaws of death and to promote the real value of girl children.

This scheme paves the way for the parents who are unwilling to take care of girl babies due to poverty, social stigma, children born with disability and due to various other reasons to voluntarily leave / place them in the cradles. The babies, received are given for In-country and Inter-country legal adoption to adoptive parents.

During the year 2001, this scheme was extended to Madurai, Theni, Dindigul and Dharmapuri districts where the practice of female infanticide was prevalent.

In the year 2011, the scheme was further extended to Cuddalore, Ariyalur, Perambalur, Villupuram and Thiruvannamalai districts where the Child Sex Ratio was recorded low as per the 2011 Census. Accordingly, Reception Centers were opened in the above mentioned districts. Children who are abandoned by parents are received in the cradles placed in the Hospitals, Primary Health Centres, Children Homes and Creches.

With an aim to prohibit the evil practices of female infanticide and to address the issue of declining Child Sex Ratio, the Government of Tamil Nadu is taking earnest efforts to make the administrative machinery more responsive in enforcing the act and punish the offenders.

5,781 children (Male 1283, Female 4498) have been saved since the inception of the scheme till March 2022.

A sum of Rs.42.46 lakh has been provided in the Budget Estimate for the year 2022-2023.

2.1.2 Homes for Children with Special Need

The State Government is implementing a special scheme to give special care and protection to the children who were left out from being adopted by prospective parents through homes run by Non Governmental Organizations.

The babies received under Cradle Baby Scheme sometimes are not adopted by parents due to various reasons, especially children with disabilities. To overcome this anomaly, the Government provides grants to the following 4 Homes run by Non Governmental Organizations to take care of these children with Special needs:

1. Sri Arunodhayam Trust, Chennai
2. Community Health Education Society (CHES), Tiruvallur
3. Premavasam, Kancheepuram
4. Families for Children, Coimbatore

At present, 135 children are taken care in these Homes. A sum of Rs.120/- per child per day is given as grant to Non-Governmental Organizations for the maintenance of the Special Need Children.

A sum of Rs.37.00 lakh has been provided in the Budget Estimate for the year 2022-2023.

2.1.3 Chief Minister's Girl Child Protection Scheme

The future of a country hinges on ensuring gender equality so that girl children are also adequately represented, qualified and able to participate in the process of development. Gender equality means providing equal opportunities to boys and girls in education, health, economic and political aspects. Girl children are discriminated based on gender and still considered as burden in a patriarchal society. Hence, the Government is taking steps to educate, empower and uplift the girl child.

To eradicate female infanticide, to discourage the preference for male children and to promote family planning, Government implements Girl Child Protection Scheme for the welfare of girl child.

In order to protect the rights of the girl children and to ensure education, the Government introduced the Chief Minister's Girl Child Protection Scheme in the year 1992 with the direct financial investment on the girl children.

Under this scheme, the amount is deposited in the name of the girl child with the Tamil Nadu Power Finance and Infrastructure Development Corporation Limited. ## CHAPTER – 5

SOCIAL DEFENCE

Children are the most valuable gift to humanity and Childhood is an important and impressionable stage of human development as it holds the potential to the future development of any Society. The State of Tamil Nadu is committed to provide best possible opportunities for children to develop their intellectual, physical and social health in a safe environment free from violence, exploitation, neglect, deprivation and discrimination. As the needs and wants of children are complex, the policies and programmes are designed to address the issues and concerns of a child as an individual rather a common general programme. The State has recently come out with Tamil Nadu State Policy for Children, 2021 with the objective of just not to fulfil the legal mandates but to safeguard the interest of children at every stage starting from early childhood to till they attain self sustainability. An efficient mechanism has been promoted to appropriately and effectively utilise the resources by integrating the resources available at different sectors of the Government and Non-Governmental Organisations with Community participation.

In order to strengthen the child protection mechanism right from the gross root level, Child Protection Committees at Village, Zonal, Block, District and State Level have been established to prevent, protect and profoundly respond to violence against children. While the limited fund allocation under Sponsorship Scheme of the Union Government resulting to number of children on the wait list, the State had stepped in and covered all the children from its own fund and reaffirmed its commitment for leaving no one behind. The recent initiative of the Government in establishing Integrated Training Center for Social Empowerment as a centre of excellence with state of the art facilities will go a long way in capacity building of stakeholders under child protection and delivering professional services.

The pro-active programmes of the State in protecting children from COVID-19 pandemic had ensured an effective safety net for children both in the institutions and outside and considerably reduced the incidences of children getting infected and fatality. The announcement of various welfare programmes with huge financial commitment by the Honourable Chief Minister for children infected/affected due to COVID-19 has once again proved the concern of the State towards its children and drawn the attention at national level. New innovative programmes had been brought in and the investment on children has been considerably increased in the recent past as the State believe that children are the world's most valuable resource and its best hope for the future.

5.1 The Government through the Directorate of Social Defence had established an effective Juvenile Justice System to cater to the needs of children in need of care and protection and those in conflict with law by providing institutional and non-institutional services.

These institutions provide care, protection, education, treatment and vocational training for rehabilitation of children who are in need of care and protection and those in conflict with law. The State has developed structures to effectively implement

Child Protection Services under "Mission Vatsalya" – a Centre and State sponsored scheme.

Vigilance/Protective Homes are established under the Immoral Traffic (Prevention) Act, 1956 for providing institutional care facilities for the women rescued from trafficking and those in moral danger and integrating them with family wherever possible.

The Department also provides After Care services to boys, girls and women who are discharged from residential care institutions through After Care organizations run by Government as well as Non-Governmental Organisations.
